TROOPS CLASH AT TRONDHEIM

Jails 2 After Gun Battle, Auto Chase

LONE OFFICER, EX-CONVICTS RACE 20 MILES

Mansfield Highway Patrolman Pursues Pair Riding in Stolen Car.

DEPUTY PLIES HANDCUFFS

(Picture on Page 5)

A 20-mile automobile chase in which a lone state highway patrolman exchanged bullet for bullet with two men in a stolen automobile as the machines sped over Richland county highways, today had ended, at least temporarily, the crime careers of two former Indiana state prison convicts.

The pair was captured by State Highway Patrolman W. C. Smith of the Mansfield sub-station and Deputy Sheriff J. R. Hetler who joined the chase when he saw the fast traveling automobiles on the highway.

Today both men were bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $5,000 each on charges of shooting with intent to kill. They entered innocent pleas before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in municipal court.

Meanwhile the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Cleveland had been asked by County Prosecutor G. W. Marriott to launch an investigation into activities of the pair when it was disclosed that they had been driving an automobile stolen in Chicago last week.

The men told police their names were Ray Taylor, 34, Niles, Mich., and Stephen Janas, 28, Burnham, Ill. Both are purported to have numerous aliases and admitted to authorities that they had served penitentiary terms.

Taylor and Janas surrendered at the intersection of Millborough road and Springmill road after they had stalled their car to climax a 20-mile chase through the western and northern part of the county, Smith said.

The patrolman reported that both men jumped from the car and threw their hands in the air as he leaped from the patrol car with his service revolver in hand.

Deputy Hetler assisted in handcuffing the pair and they were brought to police headquarters here. Hetler had joined the chase at Springmill road and U. S. route 30-S when he saw the automobiles cross the highway at a dangerous rate of speed.

Smith said he had driven up be-

Mansfield Fans Watch Indians At Home Stadium

Several hundred Mansfield baseball fans are in Cleveland today to watch the Indians launch their home season by entertaining Detroit at the Municipal stadium.

Pitcher Johnny Allen was scheduled to make his 1940 debut while approximately 25,000 spectators cast critical eyes on the Cleveland team. Henry Pippen was Detroit's choice to toss for the Tigers.

While no buses were scheduled to make special runs from Mansfield, fans jammed automobiles early today to make the trip.

Idle since their opening at Chicago Thursday, the Indians are elated by young Bobby Feller's no-hit, no-run victory and are battling to remain at the top of the heap in the American league pennant race.

DIE VIOLENTLY

CINCINNATI — (NS) — Three violent deaths, two suicides and an automobile casualty, were recorded in the Cincinnati area today.

Henry Brankamp, 83-year-old retired merchant tailor, died from injuries suffered when struck by an automobile. William T. Hensley, 62, died three hours after firing a revolver bullet into his left temple. Swastika Flies Over Campus

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—A German flag that was hoisted during the night on the campus flagpole at the University of Michigan was taken down this morning by a ladder truck crew of the Ann Arbor fire department.

The flag was raised within a few feet of Hill auditorium where a peace rally is scheduled today under the auspices of the campus peace council.

PONDER PROBE OF NEBRASKA'S PRIMARY COST

Senate Committee Called to Consider Investigation of Spending Charge.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The senate campaign investigating committee today ordered an investigation of complaints that "excessive sums of money" were being spent in behalf of some aspirants for the presidency.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Whisperings of large expenditures in recent presidential and senatorial primaries assumed sufficient volume today to cause Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) to call a forenoon meeting of the senate campaign investigating committee.

Gillette said the group would consider complaints that large sums of money had been spent in several states. He added that some charges had been received from Nebraska, but because they contained such inadequate information he had asked for "specifications and particulars."

He emphasized that his committee was "not a snooping" group and would follow up only those charges which appeared to have "any substantial basis."

Capital politicians, meanwhile, were interested in the announcement of Gov. Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina that he favored Secretary of State Hull for president.

Hoey said at Raleigh, N. C., he had "very good reason to believe" that President Roosevelt would support Hull.

Postmaster General Farley, an avowed candidate for Democratic honors, was given a testimony dinner in New York last night at which he declared that leaders of industry, transportation, finance, agriculture and labor should "submerge their selfishness."

Third term talk was given impetus by a statement by Alvin J. Wirtz, new undersecretary of the interior, that he would go to his home state of Texas shortly to "put in some licks" for another four years for Roosevelt. He made the comment after a brief conference with the president.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Roy Colwell, 48, Succumbs at Sanitarium.

Mrs. Ruth Colwell, 48, wife of Roy Colwell, 48½ West Fourth street, died at Eleanor Thomas sanitarium at noon today after having been in ill health for several months.

Mrs. Colwell, who was widely known in Mansfield, came to this city from St. John's, O. when a small child, with her parents, Charles and Minnie McCalley. Her father died a number of years ago.

She is survived by her husband, her mother, and two brothers and sisters: Luther McCalley, Mansfield, Lee McCalley, Chicago, Mrs. Charles Arbaugh, Mansfield, and Mrs. Walter Pierce, Cleveland.

The body was removed to the Finefrock funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

GERMAN PRESS WARNS ALLIES AXIS WORKING

Potential Role of Spain as Gibraltar Threat Also Hits Front Pages.

HEAVY AERIAL BOMB USED

Specially Designed Planes Needed to Carry 2,000 Pound Explosive.

(By International News Service)

BERLIN—The exchange of visits between German and Italian military missions was heralded by the German press as new evidence of Rome-Berlin axis solidarity today, while military quarters claimed new successes against the British in Norway.

All Berlin newspapers heavily featured news of the exchange as a warning to the Allies that the military alliance between the Reich and Italy is "functioning."

There was no official comment, but the newspapers strove to create the impression that the general staffs of both countries are actively collaborating for solution of common problems.

Significantly, Nazi newspapers again emphasized the potential role of Spain in the spreading European conflict. All carried on their front pages translations of a Madrid newspaper editorial reminding Britain that Gibraltar "is a name which pierces like a dagger the heart of every Spaniard."

New Bomb.

In connection with general war developments are recent claims of German air triumphs over the British fleet, it was learned on reliable authority that the Germans are now using for the first time a 2,000-pound explosive bomb, capable of sinking a cruiser or wrecking a battleship with a single hit.

The long-rumored new weapon was at last brought into play in a shrewdly-timed manoeuvre to convince Italy and Spain that air power is superior to sea power and that the British fleet is no longer invincible.

Informed German quarters asserted that the new bomb is powerful enough to pierce the heaviest armor. Specially designed planes are used to carry them.

Follow Fuehrer.

Admiral-General Eric Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German fleet, issued a proclamation today in advance of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's 51st birthday tomorrow. He said:

"We shall add new successes to the unparalleled triumphs already won against overwhelming odds.

"We shall follow the fuehrer in the proud conviction that our goal will be reached in ultimate victory."

Claiming destruction of four Norwegian airplanes in an aerial attack on the airport on the Island of Flatoey in the Bergen region, today's communique by the Nazi high command also disclosed a new onslaught on British forces preparing to land in the Narvik region.

NAB CHIEF OF TIRE THIEVES

Cleveland Ring Did Annual $100,000 Business.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Detective Lieut. Charles S. Cavolo said today a 57-year-old Clevelander had been arrested as the head of a $100,000-a-year tire theft ring which victimizd motorists in Cleveland and other northern Ohio cities for the last seven years.

Cavolo said the man was head of a dummy company which solicited orders from legitimate tire distributors and then filled the orders by having spare tires and wheels stolen.

The detective declared he had confiscated files showing the dummy company sold from $2,000 to $5,000 tires a month.

SCHREMBS RESTS

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Archbishop Joseph Schrembs of the Cleveland Catholic diocese is at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., "for a rest," Auxiliary Bishop James A. McFadden said today.

The prelate, who observed his 74th birthday March 12, went south last week for indefinite stay.

They Reign at Mansfield Relays

Queen Patty Oberlander, Attendants Chosen for Sports Event.

Seventeen-year-old Patty Oberlander, pretty brunet, and a 12-A student at Senior high school, yesterday was elected by popular vote of the student body to reign as queen of the 1940 Mansfield Relays, to be run April 27 at Stadium Field.

Miss Oberlander topped five other girls with the largest number of votes cast. The five girls who received the next largest number of votes will act as her attendants. They are Marjorie Boals, Ruth Hudson, Mariam Reese, Joan Watson, and Frances Brown.

* * *

Miss Oberlander is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Oberlander, 124 Marion avenue, and last year was an attendant to Patricia Palmer, the 1939 queen. Her father is a member of the high school faculty.

The queen and her attendants will occupy a place of honor at the Relays, and will present individual and team trophies to winners in the various events.

Shown in the photo at the right is Miss Oberlander, and at the bottom are her five attendants. They are, front row left to right, Ruth Hudson and Marjorie Boals; back row, left to right, Mariam Reese, Joan Watson and Frances Brown.

The Mansfield Relays is regarded as one of the major high school sports classics in Ohio. The event has grown in size from year to year, each succeeding year attracting more teams than in the year previous.

Harry Mehock, athletic director and track coach at the high school, inaugurated the Relays in 1927.

This year's event is expected to be a banner attraction. More than 1,200 athletes from schools in Ohio and nearby states are expected to be entered this year.

A civic committee is now at work arranging the complete program for the sports carnival which takes places a week from Saturday.

COMMENCEMENT

Outdoor Ceremony Planned for June 6 at Stadium Field.

A class of 303 Mansfield high school seniors, one of the largest in the school's history, will be graduated at outdoor commencement exercises June 6 at Stadium field, Supt. W. L. Miller announced today.

Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, president of DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind., will give the commencement address.

The outdoor commencement programs were inaugurated three years ago, but rain spoiled plans for the first one. The two programs since then have been in the stadium.

This year's class includes 161 boys and 142 girls. It has only six fewer members than the 1939 class, but represents an increase of 16 over the class of 1938 and 71 over the 1937 class.

RED SOX WIN

Jimmy Foxx' Homer Helps Boston Topple Athletics, 7 To 6.

BOSTON — (AP) — Boston's Red Sox took their opening home game today from the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 6, before a crowd of 7,100 cash customers and 3,000 guests. Jimmy Foxx helped the home team with a home run deep into the right field stands.

'Boy Gunmen' Before Judge, Police Recover Stolen Radios

Six youths between the ages of 13 and 15, four of whom were captured by state highway patrolmen in a stolen automobile Wednesday night were to be arraigned before Judge C. J. Anderson in juvenile court this afternoon on delinquency charges.

Police and juvenile authorities after questioning the boys yesterday said they uncovered a quantity of stolen property including several small radios, flashlights, a half bushel basket of pipes and other small items, little of which has been identified.

When arrested four of the youths were armed with guns said to have been taken from downtown stores. Several rounds of ammunition was found in the car.

Detectives said most of the loot was found in the lockers of three of the boys at the Richland County Children's home. Officials at the home were unaware of the quantity of articles cached there because the boys who are wards of the home have locks on their lockers and have the keys officers said.

Four of the youths were picked up by State Highway Patrolmen D. H. Cole and J. A. Gosling following the pickup by the cruiser of a radio broadcast of the stolen car. The boys said they had been joyriding.

The other two youths were arrested by Mansfield police at their homes following their identification by the others. Officers said one of the boys had two stolen bicycles in his possession, one of which had been taken at John Simpson junior high school and the other from in front of the Madison theater during the past week.

LITTLE AUDREY LAUGHS AGAIN

Two-Year-Old Tosses Clock At Daddy's Nose.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — Kenneth Morford sleepily shut off the alarm; turned the clock's dial toward the wall. He wanted forty winks more with a clear conscience.

His daughter, two-year-old Audrey, waltzed gayly into the bedroom and slammed the door. Morford awakened.

"Show me the clock," he called between yawns.

Little Audrey, anxious to please, thought he said "Throw."

The clock caught daddy squarely on the nose at exactly 7:01 a. m.

British Troops Join Norse In Coast Clashes

Battle Nazi Invaders on Full Length of Western Coast as British and Norwegians Establish Contact; Report Ronsberg's Surrender.

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM—(UP)—A fierce battle near Elverum on which the fate of the central Norwegian campaign may rest was reported today by the newspaper Aftonbladet together with a rumor that British officers have joined the Norwegian forces at Elverum.

(By Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM—Norway, with Allied aid, stiffened her resistance to the German invasion today as fighting the length of her tortuous western coast foreshadowed a major engagement in the Trondheim area and a determined stand inland north of Oslo.

A war picture, still obscured by shattered communication lines, was pieced together from scanty accounts by Norwegian government sources and Swedish newspaper dispatches.

These indicated the Germans still were increasing their hold on Norway but that the Allies and Norway had established contact and were preparing active collaboration.

Tonsberg at the mouth of Oslo fjord surrendered to the Germans without opposition yesterday.

British officers were reported to have reached Hamar, 60 miles north of Oslo, where the Norwegian government made its first headquarters after fleeing the capital.

Hamar remained in Norwegian hands but the arrival of German troops, moving northward in buses behind motorcycle patrols, was expected momentarily. Small tanks were observed in the south moving toward Hamar.

Signs pointed to the abandonment of the town itself and the establishment of defense lines a short distance north. Log barricades ten feet high were erected across the highways to delay the German advance.

Dispatches said the Norwegians believed they could hold out for some time near Hamar and Elverum, which also has been a temporary seat of the government.

There were reports a British landing would be attempted at Andalsnes, 100 miles southwest of Trondheim at the head of Romsdals fjord. Such a move probably would be aimed at encircling Trondheim and gaining control of the railway which runs southeast to the region where Norwegian forces are putting up resistance north of Oslo.

A German aerial attempt to take Namsos, 100 miles north of Trondheim, was thwarted by an Allied landing party in that region, the Norwegian legation said in an oral summary of the military situation.

In the far north the Germans insisted they still controlled Narvik.

There were indications, however, that Allied expeditionary forces

SEA: Germans Claim British Ships Hit While Landing Troops

(By International News Service)

BERLIN—A heavy German aerial attack against British forces preparing to land in the Narvik region of the Norwegian coast was announced by the German high command today.

The high command also announced the probable destruction of three other enemy submarines and the torpedoing of a British cruiser of the Glasgow class.

"North of Narvik German fighting planes attacked and heavily damaged enemy naval forces and transport ships which were preparing for a landing," the war communique said.

"The German planes bombed and sank one submarine.

"At Trondheim the German forces were reinforced. No operations took place there.

(Editor's Note: This communique referred to events of yesterday.)

"At Bergen and Stavanger our regions were extended on all sides. The day passed quietly near Christiansand.

"In the Oslo region German troops advanced to the north, west and northeast. The region southeast of the capital was occupied up to the Swedish border and remained calm.

"The Germans there captured from the Norwegian forces 83 field guns, 80 machine guns, 20,000 rounds of artillery ammunition and 1,000,000 rounds of infantry ammunition.

"The navy continued to chase submarines in the Skagerrak and Kattegat and probably destroyed three enemy submarines.

PRESSURE: Claim Nazis Send 'Trojan Horses' to Balkan States

(By Associated Press)

BUDAPEST—Germany was suspected in many quarters of the Balkans today of having rolled "Trojan horses" into the little southeastern countries.

The reich, according to these circles, has embarked on a policy of sending thousands of Germans into southeastern Europe and making deals with disgruntled nationals so that internal crises might be provoked.

Whatever Germany's aims, it is a fact that southeastern European countries are waging a relentless campaign to exterminate pro-Nazi elements suspected of preparing the way for an eventual German invasion. They began acting after the German invasion of Norway.

Hungary, Yugoslavia and Rumania clamped a tighter control on all foreigners, and the last two countries went forward with plans to expel numerous Germans.

At Istanbul, a former minister of national economy, Sirri Beliosiu, was arrested, charged with lobbying among army, navy and government officials against Turkey's mutual assistance pacts with Great Britain and France.

In Hungary, police kept a close watch on former Premier Bela Imredi, who has been accused of "playing the German game." Usually reliable sources said that 3,000 German agents, 30 of them said to be operatives of the Gestapo—the German secret police—are operating in Hungary.

In Yugoslavia, the government raided the home of former Premier Milan Stoyadinovic, who was known as "Germany's friend" when he was forced out of office a year ago, and homes of his colleagues who left their places of power with him.

CHAPTER XX

Elaine nodded her head silently, surprised as how swiftly he could change his manner. One moment he had been kind, gracious and friendly; now his face was stern, his lips were compressed into a tight line, his eyes were keen and shrewd as he looked intently at her. But after all, one did not build up such an enormous business with nothing but good nature as a workable asset.

"Of course I know nothing about these matters," he continued slowly. "I do know, however, that you are the type of girl we are looking for. We want some young, attractive unknown singer for our program. We seek an unknown singer for two reasons; first because this is only a test program which will be given for a period of thirteen weeks over a small station, and secondly, because we want a singer who will work for a comparatively small salary."

"Simon Legree," Betty intoned solemnly. "Now I can understand why you have such an enormous store. You starve your workers to death."

Mr. Blanchard chuckled and turned his head to face her but instead of uttering the scathing rebuke Elaine had expected, he sprang from the desk. Elaine glanced at Betty and the sight which greeted her eyes almost caused her to fall from her chair in surprise.

"Does your family know you smoke?" Mr. Blanchard queried.

Betty shook her head sadly. "Once, when I was a very little girl in Nebraska daddy caught me smoking corn-silk cigarets. He gave me a good hiding with his razor strop and so I never smoked aagin. I was just wondering what these tasted like." With a gaminlike grin she settled herself comfortable in the chair and puffed away at the stubby, black cigar that protruded from her mouth.

• • •

Elaine managed to stifle a laugh as she glanced at Mr. Blanchard wondering just what he would do about this, but with a tolerant, knowing smile, he simply turned back on Betty and again perched on the corner of the desk.

"So if you're willing to work for about fifty dollars a week and want to sing over the radio, I'll call my advertising manager and we'll go over to the studio for your audition. But I might just as well warn you in advance, the advertising manager makes the decision. He knows about voices, I don't."

Elaine rose hastily from her chair, anxious to force Betty to discard the cigar before she became ill. "I'd like to try it," she told him enthusiastically. "And I really appreciate the chance."

"It was Clara's idea," Mr. Blanchard remarked, disclaiming any credit.

But there had been no need of worrying about Betty. With an eloquent frown she was crunching the cigar out in an ash tray. She walked over to Mr. Blanchard.

"You are certainly a lot stronger than I thought you were," she told him. 'How in the world do you manage to smoke those—those weeds?"

He shrugged his shoulders as he picked up the telephone. "It's still a man's world, you know. Although women claim to be man's equal they really aren't."

Before Betty could think of an answer to this he had the advertising department on the telephone.

• • •

Ten minutes later they were crowded into a taxi, the advertising manager seated beside Elaine, and as they sped down the street she became more and more aware of her nervousness to the whole affair. Radio! Elaine Warburton, born in a small town, singing over the radio in the largest city in the world! It seemed impossible, fantastic, and—and dreadful!

"Feeling nervous?" Mr Weinberg, the advertising manager asked, smiling kindly Elaine nodded her head silently, wishing that some kind fairy would come along and make her disappear into the thin air before they ever reached the studio. She wondered whether she was doing the intelligent thing in admitting her fears to the man who ultimately would have the final word concerning her fitness to sing on the air, wondered too if he would attribute her nervousness to lack of confidence and talent.

But he simply nodded his head as though her's was the most natural reaction in the world. "It really isn't as bad as it sounds," he said, trying to cheer her up. "All you do is sing into a microphone; you can't see the audience, they can't see you. In all probability you'll think the whole thing is kind of silly; you won't be able to believe that the little device into which you are singing can transmit sound anywhere. And remember, even though you may be nervous, if you have the talent we'll know it."

• • •

But although Elaine realized that he was speaking the truth she could not console herself with these words, and when she finally was standing before the microphone in a small, glass-windowed room she found herself staring in fascination and dread at the strange device.

She knew she was suffering from that strange affliction known as "mike fright" and wondered why she had ever been fool enough to enter the studio in the first place.

And then, just as the accompanist began to play the song they had selected for her she remembered the fifty dollars a week she was to receive if she clicked and stepped grimly towards the microphone. Fifty dollars a week! Why—why she and Eric wouldn't have a thing to worry about any more. They could marry, live comfortably, and still save enough money against the inevitable rainy day. She opened her mouth to let the song pour from her throat but before she could utter a single note the pianist stopped playing.

"Not yet, Miss Warburton," the young woman said with a smile. When they're ready for you to sing they'll press a button. That red light up there above the door will flash on and then you're on the air."

Hardly had she finished her explanation when the red light did flash on and immediately the pianist broke into the introduction of the song. She gave Elaine her cue, and as Elaine stepped towards the microphone and began to sing she was amazed to discover that all her fright, all her nervousness had disappeared. It seemed almost incredible that this should be true, but too thankful for the fact, she did not bother to concern herself with the reason and before they had finished the song she was enjoying the whole thing. But it had been such a strange experience, she thought as the piano furnished the closing notes to the song. It seemed hardly believable that by singing into the little electrical device her voice could be heard in the room down the hall, much less in homes all over the city.

Red Streaks Entertain Sandusky Track Squad Saturday.

HANDICAPPED by lack of workouts because of the unfavorable weather conditions, the Mansfield high Red Streaks prepared today to entertain Sandusky high in a dual meet at 2 p. m. at Stadium field Saturday.

While this meet heads the activities, the two junior high teams, Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson, will share in the spotlight by tackling the Sandusky Junior high team in a preliminary affair.

Coach Harry Mehock's lads will be trying to register their first win of the season. They dropped their opener to Newark two weeks ago.

Mehock is anxious to see how his proteges will perform under pressure with the Mansfield Relays only a week and a half away. It will be the last meet before the classic.

Interest in the Relays is beginning to take the front today with six teams having filed their entries. They are James Ford Rhodes of Cleveland, the Cincinnati Electric school, Erie Tech., Erie, Pa.; Cleveland East, and Lorain in Class A, and Clearview in Class B.

Rhodes will send 28 youths, Cincinnati 15, Erie 12, East 32, Lorain, six and Clearview, one. Entries are expected to start pouring in the last of the week.

While his team is improving, Mehock is watching the performances of his star sophomores he thinks may make Mansfield a contender for the Relays championship. His top sprinter Elroy Jones, has not had much outdoor work. Jones is a sophmore.

READY FOR THE REDIOS

Last Sunday, while driving deep into the Cincinnati back country, Nixson Denton came across an old man trying to patch up his radio set. . . . "We got along without it during the winter," said the old gent, "but the Missus says it's got to be ready for the Red games. . . . To hell with the tobacco beds."

Stover With 1939 Regulars at Braves' Camp

Manager Dewey Stover of the Mansfield Braves is shown here demonstrating to two of the 1939 regulars how to hold a bat properly. The boys were among the infielders and outfielders who reported to the training camp Wednesday. Cold, and rain have kept the squad inside most of the week, but Stover expects to have them going through their paces before Monday—with a break in the weather. Stover is at the left, with Don Hauri, infielder, center, and Paul Curley, outfielder. Some 38 boys are on hand to battle for berths on the 1940 team, which opens the season against the Lima Pandas Wednesday, May 1, at the Fairground. The Braves moved to Liberty park for practice today.

Red Sox Getting Good Pitching; Win, 7-0

By JUDSON BAILEY
(AP) Sports Writer)

ALL during the spring, reports kept coming out of the southland that the Boston Red Sox pitching, most flagrant if not only weakness of the Sox last year, would be sparkling this season.

* * *

It certainly is so far. Lefty Grove shut out the Washington Senators on two hits in the opening game Tuesday. Then young Jim Bagby came right back with another five-hit 7-0 shut out against the Senators yesterday.

* * *

If the other members of the Boston staff can follow this lead the American League unquestionably is in for a fast race. The Red Sox have everything else. As a team they were better hitters last year than the New York Yankees and their fielding was satisfactory.

They look to be as good or better in both departments this term. Yesterday Jimmie Foxx socked his first home run of the season with two on and the club got seven runs off nine hits.

Dominic DiMaggio, the rookie right fielder, hit a double and performed well, even spectacularly, in the field. He made three putouts and two assists, one of them starting a double play.

As for the pitching, Grove won 15 games last year and shows every indication of winning just as many again.

The Detroit Tigers may be another troublemaker in the junior circuit. They are glutted with power as long as old Charley Gehringer is at second. He and Hank Greenberg combined to give the Bengals a 4-2 decision over the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

Greenberg hit a homer with one on, then Gehringer got on base and Greenberg tripled and finally Gehringer hit a homer of his own. Another veteran, Tommy Bridges, contributed careful seven-hit hurling.

The Cincinnati Reds are living up to their spring boasts, too. They nosed out the Chicago Cubs 2-1 again with Gene Thompson holding the Bruins to five hits and shutting them out until the ninth, against Claude Passeau.

* * *

* * *

Boston was to see both morning and afternoon contests between the Red Sox and Athletics because it was Patriot's day. The Yankees were to be presented with emblems of their world championship by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and dedicate a placque to the late Col. Jacob Ruppert before engaging the Senators.

Tire Team Sets Pace For Mansfield Clubs

Pete Grohol Hits 596 Figure as No. 11 Team Collects a 2753 In ABC Tournament.

DETROIT—Mansfield placed three teams in the lower fringe of prize territory of the American Bowling Congress world's championships here last night.

Mansfield Tires No. 11 team paced the attack with 2753 as Peter Grohol pitched a near-par figure of 596 with 185-209-202. Liederkranz club topped 2700 by 13 pins and Weidener Pontiac Motor Sales will probably nick the prize nugget.

"Low-to-cash" figures are being revised downwards from the 2717 figure of last year, as the nation's hot shots continued to be baffled by the timber here. Firing in the singles is of a high order, however, as 1,022 series in the solo section from 600 to 730 have already been registered.

DETROIT—(AP)—A break in the scoring lull of the American Bowling Congress championship appeared imminent today as several nationally-known teams prepared to fire away in the five-man event.

Slated for action are the Pabst Blue Ribbons of Chicago, Linsz Recreation and Rosenblums of Cleveland, and Dean Rubber of Kansas City, eighth-place winner last year with a score of 3,017.

Walter Michalak, 42-year-old Toledo, O., bartender, accounted for the only changes yesterday by posting 704 in the singles, good enough for a three-way tie for seventh place, and 1,900 in the all-events for tenth place.

Stacy Hall To Face Grappler Here Monday

NEXT Monday night's mat card which the Quality club presents in the Armory loomed today as likely to be one of the best of the indoor season with the signing of Stacy Hall, world's lightheavyweight champion to appear on it.

Tim Nolan, matchmaker for the Quality club announced that he has signed Hall to wrestle in a special match, meeting Dave Reynolds, the "midget fox" from Cedar Rapids, Ia., in a non-title contest.

Articles signed by both Hall and Reynolds call for them to wrestle for two out of three falls with a 45 minute time limit and Hall's title will not be at stake inasmuch as it is stipulated in the contract that the match is at catchweights and the title not involved.

The top match will send "the Hun" undefeated masked wrestler against the rugged Italian, "Bull" Marino of New York City over the two out of three falls route with an hour and a half time limit.

Launch Home Season

Johnny Allen Will Face Detroit in First Tilt at Lakefront Stadium.

By LARRY HAUCK

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Indians open the season today with this city of a million stirred to its highest baseball fever since the delirious pennant days of 1920.

The enthusiasm, overshadowing cloudy skies that kept the air at football temperatures, engulfed busy Euclid avenue and swept out into the suburbs to lure fans into downtown throngs awaiting game time. More than 30,000 were expected at the lakefront stadium to see the game.

* * *

The 21-year-old player most responsible for the interest was not even scheduled to play in the inaugural against the Detroit Tigers. Bob Feller's turn will come Sunday when he makes his first mound appearance since twirling a no-hit opener against Chicago.

* * *

The fans staged a preview last night as 5,000 jammed the concourse of Union Terminal for a glimpse of Feller and his teammates as they arrived from Chicago. Mayor Harold H. Burton led the welcoming delegation. It took the players 20 minutes to fight their way out of the mob.

In the early thirties it was an axiom that an American league season was never started officially until the Cleveland fans and sports writers picked the Indians to win the pennant. Their title appetite finally dulled by constant disappointments. Indian followers turned blase. For the last three or four years most of them could take their Indians or leave them.

Now they are "back in the groove." No one is picking the Elephants and clowns were "old stuff" when Julius Caesar staged his open-air free-for-all circus some 2,000 years ago. The art of brewing was practiced at least 2,000 years before that. But the "big top" and scientifically produced beer are traditionally American.

The tradition behind Wiedemann's Fine Beer extends back for four generations. The original formula is still in force. The same fine ingredients are chosen from the world's richest sources. The flavor is enhanced by slow and careful aging. Whether you buy Wiedemann's on draught or in bottles, you will invariably find the same sparkling brilliance, rich bouquet and satisfying flavor. Tom Sharkey Says He Can't Forgive McCoy's Mean Tricks

SAN FRANCISCO —(U.P.)— Time has taught Sailor Tom Sharkey there is no good in a grudge, but he could not find it in his heart today to forgive Kid McCoy for his "mean tricks."

* * *

Sharkey, now 66, is Irish and sentimental, but his lips tightened involuntarily about his cigar when he was told that Norman Selby—the Kid—had committed suicide in Detroit yesterday with $17.75 in his pocket.

* * *

The old sailor's expression did not change when he learned that Kid McCoy, the same age as he, had been unable to "endure this world's madness" and had left a note advising the youth of this nation to live cleanly.

Tom Sharkey fought Kid McCoy once, and the memories of that fight made him say:

"I'm sorry to hear about McCoy's death, for he was a great fighter. But you'll have to excuse me if I don't say nice things about him."

He went on to tell about the fight in the Lennox Club in New York, back in 1899. Neither was champion but it was the fight of the year.

"He came into the ring that night with his gloves on," Sharkey said bitterly. "Tommy O'Rourke, my manager, ordered the gloves removed. We found almost half a ton of plaster along with the heavy bandages. Had the plaster stayed on McCoy probably would have knocked me out for keeps. Do you wonder I didn't have exactly pleasant memories of McCoy?

"McCoy was probably the hardeste hitter the fight game ever knew, outside of James J. Jeffries," said Sharkey. "They were betting 10 to 6 McCoy would beat me, and when the Kid knocked me down in the first round, the ringside went wild and the odds went up to 10 to 3 it was all over.

But I weathered the storm and came along to the 10th round. I couldn't box him — he was too slick. So I went for his stomach. That finished him. Tim Hurst was the referee and he counted him out in the 10th.

"I'll have to tell the truth about McCoy: he was fast, cold blooded, a good feinter, but just plain mean. Recall that trick of his of stopping apparently to tie a shoe lace then, catching his opponent off guard and knocking him cold?"

The Kid, said Sharkey, made a hobby of pretty women.

* * *

"All his wives were beautiful and probably all well to do, although I don't recollect their names at the present," Sharkey continued. "It was women and fast living that finished him."

* * *

Sharkey lives in a hotel room south of the slot in San Francisco, spends his days chatting in the lobby and making an occasional foray into gymnasiums. His walls are covered with clippings from yellowed newspapers, the Police Gazette and religious paintings.

Fat, Sassy Reds Take On Pirates

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Fat and sassy with two helpings of bear meat, the National League champion Cincinnati Reds trundled into town today for three games (weather, as always, permitting) with Frankie Frisch's new edition of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

* * *

Bucky Walters, who used to make Pie Traynor's Pirates do tricks, and Mace Brown are the pitchers of the day and it's up to Bucky to prove that Frisch hasn't given the Pirates anything that can't be whipped.

* * *

Young Gene Thompson served up the second helping of bear meat yesterday in the old home town. The Chicago Cubs went down by the same scores allotted them by Paul Derringer in the opener—2 to 1—and if it hadn't been for a wild pitch with two men out in the ninth, Gene might have had a shutout.

A single and two walks loaded the bases for the Cubs in their ninth, and with Bill Nicholson batting for Al Todd, Gene let the wild one go. However, Nicholson waved futilely at the third strike and another ball game was in the bag. The Reds probably need only about 95 more now to clinch the pennant.

Up to the eighth Thompson and Claude Passeau traded goose egg for goose egg and nobody was making any money. Then Passeau pinked Ernie Lombardi in the ribs. Lee Gamble ran for the big guy, went to second on Harry Craft's sacrifice, and came in on Rookie Mike McCormick's booming double. Billy Myers followed with one of his own and that's all there was to it.

* * *

This boy Thompson, pitched a cool, heady game and no cub got as far as second base until the ninth. The two walks then were the only ones he gave and he fanned seven men.

* * *

If he bears out all the promise given last season, Walters and Derringer will get a lot more rest this year.

Denies He's Suing Boston Ball Player

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Chris Emanuel denied last night that he was suing his son-in-law, Les Scarsella of the Boston Bees, as a result of the death of Mrs. Scarsella in an automobile accident in February.

* * *

Scarsella was reported planning to stay in Boston when the team came here to play the Cincinnati Reds and thus avoid service, but Emanuel said he had taken no legal action, either here or in Danville, Ky., where the accident occurred.

* * *

Scarsella and his wife were en route from their home there to the Bees' training camp in Bradenton, Fla., when she was killed.

BOYLES KNOCKED OUT

FAIRMONT, W. Va. —(AP)— A knockdown defeated Eddie Boyles of Cleveland in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout with George Hughes, Pittsburgh Negro, last night.

Indians to win the pennant (the Yankees are still in the league), but the faithful are ready to back a club that has more team spirit, more possibilities and more will-to-win than any in the last decade.

Manager Oscar Vitt nominated Johnny Allen, the team's biggest question mark, for mound duty. After an arm operation Allen was unimpressive last season in winning nine and losing seven.

* * *

Henry Pippen, a right-hander who once hurled for Philadelphia, was Detroit's mound selection. Bruce Campbell and Earl Averill, former tribal outfielders, are with the Tigers, with the former listed to start.

* * *

The city named Mayor Burton as its pitcher. His toss was set for 3 o'clock.

Mudhens Try For Pennant

Wallop Defending Champs By 11 to 4 Score.

(By Associated Press)

Toledo's Mudhens, who have wound up in the American Association cellar more times than any other team in the league, may have their say this season—13 years after their one and only pennant.

* * *

The Mudhens gave several indications of that yesterday as the Association's 39th season opened despite murky skies, cold and rain.

* * *

Playing the No. 1 team of last year did not nettle them at all as they walloped Kansas City's defending champions, 11 to 4.

Other games provided a mixture of fancy pitching and lusty slugging.

Lefty Bob Logan of Indianapolis got away to a shaky start, then settled down to turn in a four-hit performance and a 3 to 2 victory over Vedie Himsl of St. Paul.

* * *

Pete Hader of Columbus and Frank Makosky of Milwaukee also had a tight duel for eight innings, then the Brewers drove Hader from the box in the ninth with a four-run assault and won, 5 to 2.

* * *

A slugfest occurred at Louisville where a crowd of 8,861 persons, the largest of the day, watched last year's Shaughnessy playoff winners rally for two runs in the ninth to whip Minneapolis, 8 to 7.

LIKED HORSES

So She Left Them a Trust Fund Of $10,000 For Oats.

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— There's a $10,000 trust fund in Kansas that assures "needy horses" of a free Christmas dinner of oats. The fund was set up by the late Mrs. Emma W. Robinson of Olathe. Each horse is allowed one bushel.

In 1937, 250 bushels of oats were purchased but only 150 needy horses could be found. Since then, the humane society has been able to dispose of about 200 bushels each Christmas.

Felt So Nervous and Upset Couldn't Sleep Some Nights

Truck Farmer Relates How a Few Bottles of Vendol Gave Marvelous Relief from Constipation and Now Feels Like a Different Person.

MR. RUBEN BITTINGER

"I certainly can recommend Vendol to anyone who suffers like I did because I never had any medicine do so much good," stated Mr. Ruben Bittinger who owns and operates his own truck farm on Route 1, Perrysville, O., to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store.

"I was constipated and this made me so nervous that I seemed to be upset all over sometimes, and many a night I'd be awake for hours after retiring. If I awakened during the night I'd twist and turn, roll and toss, it seemed like for ages.

"Another trouble this constipation caused was awakening with a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, and feeling tired nd worn out just like I hadn't been to sleep at all, and I didn't want to eat anything for breakfast.

"Also, it seemed that my stomach would fill with gas after eating and a hot, sour liquid would rise up in my throat and burn like fire, and I'd have spells of 'heartburn'.

"I often read what people said about Vendol and how it relieved them of these troubles, so I began taking it a few weeks ago along with some of the little Vendol laxative tablets.

"I never enjoyed such wonderful relief from constipation in my life; then that nervous, quivery feeling gradually passed off, and I no sooner got into bed than I was off into a restful sleep. Now, every morning I awaken without a sign of a headache or tired out feeling, and ready for a big meal.

"Nothing I eat upsets my stomach, and I haven't had any gas, sourness, cramps, or distress since about a week after I started taking Vendol.

"I am glad to praise this fine medicine and hope my experience will lead many to try it, and also get relief."

A special representative, called the Vendol Man, is daily at Central Drug Store, cor. Main and Fourth streets, to explain all about this famous medicine. Come see him, there is no obligation; learn how Vendol can help you, too. Most all leading druggists sell it.

SEEKING BUYER FOR RAILROAD

BRIDGTON, Me. —(U.P.)— For slightly more than $20,000 someone can become a railroad magnate.

Bridgton selectmen want to sell 16 miles of narrow gauge track, several tiny stations, a gasoline engine and a dozen assorted cars. The town took over the road to prevent its abandonment, as it is the only link Bridgton has with the Maine Central railroad.

Now, however, they want to get rid of it because motor trucks are cutting into the road's profits.

PAM— Comes the Dawn! By A. W. Brewerton

HORRIBLE!!—AND ALL MY FAULT!—I—SHOULD HAVE HAD HER WATCHED OVER, ALL THE TIME!! —POOR GIRL!! —WHAT HAVE I BROUGHT UPON YOU?
THE COLONEL HAS JUST PHONED HIS FRIEND DONOVAN, THE DETECTIVE, WHO SHORTLY AFTER, ARRIVES AT CAREY'S APARTMENT!
I—COULDN'T WATCH YOU BOTH, COLONEL!—I ARRANGED FOR A MAN TO TAKE UP SHADOWING THE GIRL, TOMORROW! A GOOD LAD I KNOW, NAMED CARTER!
WE—ARE JUST ONE DAY LATE, DONOVAN!

ISN'T THERE SOMETHING WE CAN DO?—MUST WE JUST—SIT DOWN—IDLE?
IT'S LIKE LOOKING FOR A NEEDLE IN A HAYSTACK, COLONEL!—I STOPPED BY POLICE HEADQUARTERS ON THE WAY UP!
IF IT'S HARDESTY'S MEN, YOU'LL HEAR FROM THEM IN THE MORNING!
AND POOR CLARE WAITS THROUGH THE NIGHT IN AN AGONY OF SUSPENSE
OH! WHY DOESN'T THE COLONEL CALL?—WHY—DON'T I—GET SOME WORD?—OH, PAM! PAM!
AND SO CAME THE DAWN—AND NO WORD OF PAM!

SOME STOCKS MANAGE TO GET BACK LOSSES

Traders Shake Off Their Nervousness Over European War.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Selling dried up in the stock market today and scattered issues managed to get back portions of Thursday's losses.

U. S. Rubber preferred, off 13 points yesterday, retrieved a sizable part of this. The common also rallied a point or so.

Traders seemed to have shaken off some of their nervousness over the European war, but the buying urge was notably lacking.

Bonds were narrow and commodities a shade lower. Foreign markets were steady.

Among items studied for market trend clues were:

Retail spending throughout the nation, as summarized by Dun & Bradstreet, continued to maintain a high level despite handicaps provided by unseasonable temperatures.

In a compilation by the Associated Press, first quarter earnings of 90 corporations were estimated at 43 per cent above the comparable period in 1939.

The federal reserve system, for the week ended Wednesday, announced excess funds of member banks jumped $100,000,000 to top the $6,000,000,000-mark for the first time in history.

GETS REQUEST TO HIRE MUNY COURT CLERK

Council to Act on Legislation For Stenographer-Clerk; 48 Attorneys Back Move.

City council at its May 6 meeting will be asked to create the position of a stenographer-clerk in municipal court, a request made a month ago by Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch and Mansfield attorneys practicing in the tribunal.

Acting on recommendations from council's finance committee, City Solicitor Marion D. Ward today was drafting legislation creating the position. The measure which will be submitted to council is expected to be passed on favorably.

While the bill sets up the position, it is accompanied with legislation providing an appropriation to cover only three months salary, Ward said.

Based on a $75 monthly wage the appropriation totals $225.

Judge Kalbfleisch's plea for additional help in the court was backed up by a petition from 48 Mansfield attorneys. The petition cited the inconvenience caused court litigants by having to furnish their own stenographers.

Judge Kalbfleisch said the amount of work handled by the court is constantly in the civil branch, which he said had more than trebled during the past four years.

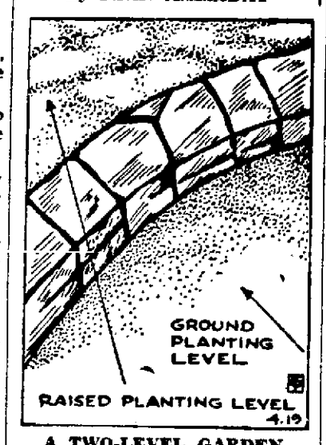
OLD TRADE DOLLARS

LOCK HAVEN, Pa.—(U.P.)—Among the most prized possessions of John S. Keller of Flemington are two large silver coins or "trade dollars" minted in 1877 and 1878. One of the coins belonged to Keller's father who made it into a pocket piece because the date mark coincided with Keller's birth.

Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY



A TWO-LEVEL GARDEN

Sometimes the garden space slopes or "falls away" toward the rear or side of a home lot, resulting in a low, damp spot where grass or plantings will not grow well. In a situation such as this a two-level warden often is the solution.

In building a two-level garden on low land, the first step is to put down drain tile, then build up with good top soil to the level desired, retaining the higher level with a "dry wall" of ledge stones, or flat-shaped rocks, as shown in the Garden-Graph. The two planting levels, as shown, enable one to arrange plantings which will transform the once ugly spot in the yard into a beauty bower.

ALLIES, GERMAN TROOPS CLASH AT TRONDHEIM

Fighting Underway on Coast as British and Norwegian Armies Unite Forces.

were in the region although the exact status of the town was unclear.

Civilians Fleeing.

Many civilians fled the northern pre port and severe suffering was reported among refugees whose skis were commandeerd. The insaders brought along white uniform coverings for use in northern operations. Food and other supplies of Narvik shops were taken over by the Germans.

From both Stavanger and Bergen the Germans were fanning out as they already have from Trondheim. One Norwegian garrison in the Hegra fortress, 25 miles east of Trondheim, was continuing to resist despite pounding from German artillery and aerial bombs.

Britain Sees Heavy Fighting Ahead.

LONDON —(AP)— Allied manpuvers, including the first reported engagement of British and German land forces in Norway, pointed today toward a head-on clash of Europe's belligerents on the Scandinavian battleground.

A British news agency, Reuters, reported from Stockholm that the first encounter occurred at Namsos, on the Atlantic coast 100 miles north of the key city of Trondheim.

Dispatches reaching the Swedish capital said that the German forces had been repulsed. Swedish frontier reports said that Namsos was the point picked by the British for their latest troop landing while Norwegian forces concentrated at Steinkjer, 30 miles nearer Trondheim.

Apparently the Germans had been rushed north from the German-controlled strategic Trondheim region to meet the British landing parties. Perhaps they sidestepped or trapped the Norwegian concentration at Steinkjer, south of Namsos.

The British war office's second laconic communique since the spread of the war to Norway April 9 told yesterday of continuing debarkation of British troops on Norway's shores and of their contact with Norwegian forces and added that "operations are continuing."

A Norwegian communique, about the same time, said that contact had been made with Allied forces "by both sea and land."

The struggle for control of the Norwegian skies is continuing but still undecided between Nazi airmen and those of the British Royal Air Force and the air arm of the fleet.

Sure Of Air Power.

The British press, however, expressed confidence that powerful naval forces flanking Norway could turn a victory for the Allied land forces.

Nevertheless, the London News-Chronicle demanded quicker action in Norway and hinted that the fighting forces were not being given free rein by "some important members of the government."

Authoritative diplomatic quarters declared that the British government was not treating the Norwegian front as a "sideshow" and that the Germans would encounter the full might of the Allied forces.

Arthur Salter, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of shipping, declared in a speech last night that the British merchant marine is as strong as ever despite Germany's attacks.

In the past seven months, he said, "the enemy has destroyed less than three per cent of our ships." Nearly all this loss, he added, has been replaced.

On the diplomatic front the Allies kept a close watch on the tense Balkans and, despite unabated hostility toward the Allies in the Italian press, the tendency of Allied diplomacy appeared to be striving for improvement of relations with Italy.

Birthday Tomorrow, Hitler Frees Prisoners.

BERLIN—(AP)—Publication of a decree by Adolf Hitler of amnesty for physicians, dentists and pharmacists convicted of offenses against their professional rules committed before last Sept. 1 coincides with preparations for celebration tomorrow of the fuehrer's 51st birthday.

The Sept. 1 limit coincides with the date that Germany went to war with Poland—the actual start of the European conflict.

As is the custom, Hitler's anniversary tomorrow will be celebrated on a nationwide scale but the celebration will be subdued because of the war.

Key Nazis, however, prepared to pour out their floweriest phrases of praise for the fuehrer. Speeches broadcast throughout the country in Hitler's honor will be a major portion of the observance of the anniversary of his birth at Braunau, Austria, near the German border.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels makes his customary nationwide birthday eve radio speech tonight at 7 o'clock. Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy party leader and second in line of succession to him, addresses the nation's youth at 8 a. m. tomorrow. And Baldur Von Schirach, head of the Hitler youth organization who now is a corporal in the army, will extend the organization's best wishes to Hitler from the west-front by radio tomorrow night.

side the car on U. S. route 30-S near Trimble road and ordered the driver to halt when he observed license plates on the car had been reported stolen in Portsmouth.

He stopped the patrol car behind the machine and as he approached the car Janas, who was later identified as the driver, threw the car in gear and sped north on Trimble road.

The patrolman related that as he gave chase, Taylor opened the door on his side of the machine and shot "three or four times," none of the bullets finding their mark.

Smith said he exchanged shots with Taylor as the car sped north on Bowman street road, using his left hand as he wheeled the machine at a 60-mile-an-hour pace over the gravelled highway. None of the shots struck the car.

Lost On Highways.

The men apparently lost on the county roads drove north on Bowman road, cut across another county highway and doubled back towards Mansfield, finally getting onto the Springmill road where they headed south.

Smith driving with one hand lost control of the patrol car as he sped around the intersection of the Amoy-Pavonia road and Bowman street road and crashed into a barn. He backed the car onto the highway, and although badly damaged continued to follow the pair.

The gun used by Taylor in the exchange of shots was found on the front seat of the car after the men surrendered, Smith said. Another revolver and 200 rounds of amunition was discovered in Janas' traveling bag in the rear of the car, according to the officer.

Admit Stealing Auto.

Prosecutor Marriott, who said he had taken statements from the two, said the men admitted stealing the automobile in Chicago last Thursday and then driving to W. Va., later going to Portsmouth where they picked up the Ohio plates and attached them to the machine.

When arrested they had approximately $30 in small bills. They denied they had participated in any other thefts.

Marriott said federal agents in Cleveland had been asked to come to Mansfield today to investigate activities of the pair.

Taylor and Janas told Marriott they had served a term in the Indiana state prison several years ago for auto theft.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1940.

An improvement seldom looks like one while it is being made.

Remember that a traffic accident can happen as a result of ten seconds of carelessness—but the regret may extend through years.

That Alabama congressman who started for Ashland, Ohio, and landed in Ashland, Kentucky, gives an idea of what may be happening to the federal economy program.

Steady Work for Dies Committee

BETRAYAL and attempted delivery of Norway to Nazi invaders, through the treachery and connivance of Hitler adherents in the capital city of Oslo, has had a disturbing effect in southeastern Europe's little nations, several of which are taking determined action against Nazi sympathizers within their borders.

While many may regard conditions in the United States as having nothing in common with those existing in small European countries, it is not well to forget that the Hitler and Stalin technique of "boring from within" has also been practiced in America and that it is the sincere desire of Nazi "bunds" and communist "cells" to overthrow this government —just as was done, with at least temporary success, in Norway.

It has been shown to be the serious intent of the Dies committee to bring these enemies of American democracy out into the open, yet this committee has been hampered by criticism and ridicule from many individuals and groups, despite the support given it by the American Legion and other patriotic organizations.

To whatever extent individual liberty, and freedom of speech and action, is guaranteed in the United States, it will scarcely be contended that it was intended to protect the alien rats and radical vermin who have come into this country on subversive missions.

The work of the Dies committee and the Federal Bureau of Investigation should go on without interruption, with funds sufficient to meet needs and with approval and support by every loyal American. It does not make sense that this nation should be spending on an unprecendented scale for armament—the effectiveness of which could be nullified by clandestine activities of alien groups.

Planning for Arbor Day

A WINTER that hung on longer than usual and a spring that insists on tossing snowflakes instead of April showers make Arbor days in many places seem premature. You can't do much digging and tree-planting in a flood or a blizzard.

While people are waiting for the weather to improve, however, they can at least think about Arbor day and make plans. The first Arbor day was observed in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. It set an example worth recalling now. On that date a million young trees were set out in a region where trees were scarce.

As other states took up the idea, it became the thing to have schools set out trees on their own grounds on whatever date their state chose for Arbor day. Most of the Arbor days fall in April, but there are some in February and March.

Nowadays, in addition to planting trees, school children study conservation and learn that need of trees is based on far more than their esthetic value. Trees, soil and food and water supply are all linked.

Competition Stimulates Trade

NOT ONLY is competition "the life of trade" but it is a great stimulant of retail distribution and an incentive to initiative. Merchants who encourage adoption of laws intended to fix prices at arbitrary levels which they feel will assure them a "fair" profit and protect them against "unfair" competition, are courting economic disaster.

The first result of such a course, if carried far enough, is to arouse resentment of consumers whose ideas of "fair" prices may differ from those of the merchant. The second result, sooner or later, is the establishment of a different system of merchandising under the pressure of consumer demand, a system with greater price flexibility and room for gradual price reduction as the technique and efficiency of distribution improves.

The American distribution system, at present, embodies the essentials of continued survival. Free competition gives the consumer flexible prices as well as the benefits of increased distributive efficiency. However, there are strong minority groups insistently seeking to curb competition by various means. Only recently, a three-judge Federal Statutory Court, in holding a certain price fixing law illegal, expressed the opinion that: "The effect upon competition of differences in prices honestly based on differences in selling costs, is the normal and natural result of fair competition between merchants whose overhead expenses differ. This type of competition is to be encouraged in the public interest, rather than restrained."

Women Smokers Turn To Pipes

A BOSTON tobacconist says women, chiefly young women of college age, are taking to pipe-smoking. There are some middle-aged women, too, who don't mind saying that they "like a good pipe now and then." Most of them, he thinks, appear in pipe-smoking families, a conjecture which may move some people, of both sexes, to reflections of one kind or another. Perhaps such cases are most likely to appear in families where Father has not only enjoyed his pipe but kept it reasonably clean, or has had a number of shining pipes kept neatly in a row.

These feminine pipes, it may be added, are "very light and dainty." Even so, the smokers are said to be so timid about taking this desperate plunge that they usually stand outside the pipe store while the husband, brother or boy friend goes in to make the purchase.

Historically speaking, they wouldn't need to be so coy about it. It isn't really a new thing, but just a recurrence. Many of the great-grandmothers of these new converts smoked clay or corncob pipes, and thought nothing of it—just as their more remote ancestors painted their fingernails and used the crude cosmetics of their time.

The "forgotten man" that New Dealers have been talking about may have been left standing on that forgotten platform back in 1932.

A returned traveler thinks you should go to Nassau sometime—just to convince yourself that you don't care to go to Nassau.

If she wears it on her head it's a hat.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Headwinds that forced the westbound Atlantic Clipper into Bermuda recently blew the top off a leak in United States naval secrets — a leak that leads to Nazi Germany.

The story has not been told. It's an official secret, confined to international circles, U. S. naval intelligence and perhaps the Federal Bureau of Investigation. All will offer in comment only that irritating Washington stymie: "Just say that we refuse to confirm or deny."

The Atlantic Clipper, winging west out of the Azores, fought headwinds that would have driven Columbus' armada back to Spain. All that happened was an alarming depreciation of the gasoline supply—but the skipper, figuring that safety was better than sorrow, put in at Bermuda for fuel.

The British government there, ever on qui vive, called its disbanded censorship staff from basking on the beaches and riding bicycles in the warm winter sun. Within an hour or so, 1,628 pounds of mail had been taken off the Clipper for censorship. More than 800 pounds of it was mail from Germany.

Among this was a letter from some Nazi somewhere that left the British censors gasping. They forwarded it by cable to the United States naval intelligence department here.

The context of that letter left no doubt in any one's mind. U. S. naval secrets were being sold through some foreign espionage agency to Germany.

Investigations were started immediately and I have it on high authority that some person or persons already have been taken into custody—but there always is that: "We do not confirm or deny."

* * *

It's An Ill Wind—

THIS is a phase of the censorship and mail seizure situation that has been overlooked.

Not until a man (or woman) had come under suspicion could any officer investigating espionage or subversive activities plunder the United States mail.

It's another side of the picture that critics of British high-handedness (some even have called it hijacking) regarding the U. S. mails have ignored.

I don't say that the British (or any one else) are privileged to tap one single pipeline of foreign communications bearing an American stamp, but I can't help repeating that it's an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody something.

* * *

It's Happened Before.

THIS is merely history repeating itself. In the World war, it was Great Britain that pointed the way to disclosure of the Zimmerman notes, which allegedly built up a pretty big case against Germany's interest in the affairs in Mexico (supposedly to distract the United States from intervention in the European war).

—Again, it was Great Britain that uncovered the reported perfidy of one Mr. Franz von Papen, attache of the German embassy. Mr. Von Papen, so the story goes, had negotiated for sabotage of certain U. S. industries and waterways. For years Von Papen was under indictment in the United States — undoubtedly would be under suspicion if he returned today, although the indictment has been dismissed.

Both of these COULD have been the activities of British propaganda agents. SO COULD BE THE PRESENT disclosure of a leak in U. S. naval secrets to Nazi Germany.

But who's fooling who and why isn't important. What is vital to our interests is that something's up and in a big way. The British seizure of mail finally has disclosed a skunk in the woodpile and it's up to the F.B.I., naval intelligence, or somebody, to smoke him out and find out whose flag he's flying.

If Great Britain is up to one of her propaganda tricks—it's time we found out. If Nazi Germany is getting sticky fingers where U. S. naval secrets are concerned, then it's time some misguided soul went to jail.

It's all right to shush-shush these things as long as on one is sure about anything, but once the espionage die is cast, We, the Public, should have a look-in.

Timely Editorial

Slow-Witted Criminals.

Animals can be taught much more easily and quickly than human beings to conform to prescribed patterns of behavior. This speaks both well and evil of the human race, for while it is well that men and women have minds of their own and the courage and determination to resist outside pressures, it is stupid for them not to learn those lessons from which, quite clearly, they can profit with ease and certainty.

The common fate of criminals would seem in the light of any disinterested inspection to offer a lesson in behavior which would be heeded without question. In light of what usually happens to the highwayman, the burglar and others of that ilk, the individual who persists in pursuing criminal activity must indeed be considered to be stupid by his more enlightened fellowmen. Whatever the pecuniary rewards of such a career, they [illegible] are worth the [illegible]

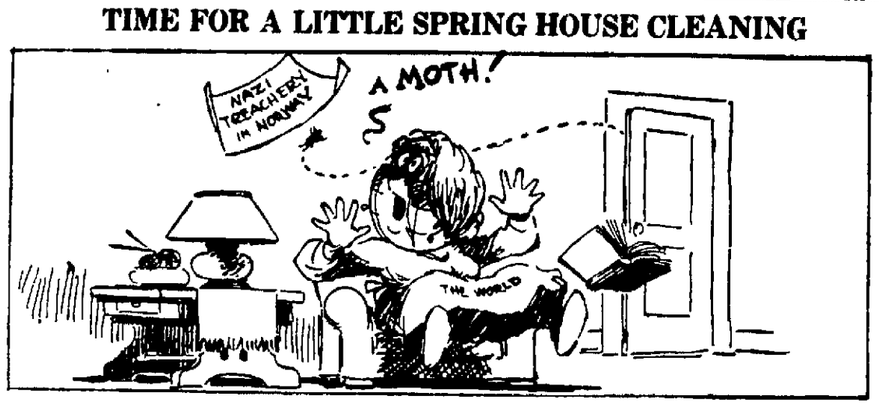
TIME FOR A LITTLE SPRING HOUSE CLEANING



Listen, World!

To Twenty Thousand Club Women.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

TO THE 20,000 club women shortly to be assembled in Minneapolis.

Twenty thousand of you, sisters—all armed with rights 'n' franchises 'n' civic programs—'n' talking at once. Wow! That's a big order for this man's country to take. And if they but have the sense to see it, as swell a thing as could happen in any national spot.

I'm thinking back to the days when the only female conventions we had were the Friday afternoon Ladies Aid meetings, with maybe eight of us working on the same quilt or running up a seam on a batch of "cotton flannel" nightgowns. Remember? The kind with the big china buttons that would have covered Queen Liliuokalani at a pinch. And not pinched much at that.

Doesn't sound much like a modern federation of women's clubs, does it? And yet I've a hunch it wasn't so very different after all. For those eight women bending over that quilt had what it took to shove their world around just as you have today. And it wasn't suffrage. It was something that went far deeper than suffrage and started a long time before Susan B. Anthony or Carrie Chapman Catt came along. Something that went back and back to the first woman's federation of all—a slender, golden girl named Eve, in the Garden of Eden.

Womanhood. That's what those eight women had. Womanhood and all it holds of shrewdness and go-gettum, tenderness and tenacity, patience and punch. They were pioneers in the frontier West, those women of whom I speak. And anyone who thinks that that frontier was manicured into shape by the Big Boys is just selling himself a line of goods. They were scenic—plenty—those covered wagon lads. And I'm still wistfully remembering a couple of gamblers and at least 16 cowboys.

But I'm not fooling myself about any of them. If they'd had their way we'd still be loafing under the fig trees, strumming mandolins. It was the Dear Little Woman at home who really got things done, built the school, paved the roads, piped the water.

And with all our political privileges today I doubt if we can improve on their technique or top their results. For whether we like it or not, the greatest thing we can be—the most potent and persuasive thing—is JUST WOMEN. And there's still more wallop in a smile and a kiss and a swell batch of beefsteak and onions than there is in all the fancy legislation we can pass.

Sure, we're the "equals of men"—

But why be their equals when you can be their boss—and they never knowin' it, the darling dumb-bells? And why moil and toil to lick them in the Senate when wou can do it in a tenth of the time with a fresh apple pie at home?

Spillin' the goods, am I? Telling our secrets? Letting the world in on the password of the most ancient secret society on earth? Sure I am. But I'm doing it with love and delight—and my hand in yours. Over the miles and the years the girl who quilted a blanket says, "Go to it, sisters. Shove 'em around. It's a great game — and the lads are still our dish. Whether they know it or not they'll be building our world for us yet . . . and making our dreams come true.

Health And Diet

"Bachelor Scurvy" In Midst of Plenty.

—By DR. CLENDENING

IT HAS been called "bachelor scurvy" because it occurs usually in lonely old men who are starving in the midst of plenty. And they don't even know they are starving. They know something is the matter with them, but they don't know what.

Scurvy is a food-deficiency disease resulting from lack of fresh foods, especially fresh fruits. Babies develop it more often than adults, unless especial care is taken to give them orange juice daily. It used to be a regular hazard on a ship that made a long voyage. The sailors ate nothing but salt meat and preserved food until it was found that if they were made to suck a lime or an orange every day, they could make voyages with complete freedom from scurvy.

Among adults nowadays it is a rare—a very rare—disease, but it does occur even in centers of population where food is abundant.

The usual patient is a man over 50 years of age who lives alone and whose subsistence depends upon his own culinary inclinations. I saw one case in California, the land of oranges.

Some patients who adhere too religiously to an ulcer diet may develop it. Minot cites a patient who had a tendency to diarrhea and subsisted on milk and cracker diet for over a year. Anemia, with spontaneous gum hemorrhage, is common.

Food deficiency diseases may develop when the diet is adequate, but due to bad digestion or bad absorption, all the foods are not utilized. In alcoholics who substitute whisky for food and who also develop an inflammation of the stomach, symptoms may develop which are definitely due to lack of vitamins or minerals.

The multiple neuritis formerly designated as "alcoholic neuritis" is nearly exclusively of this kind and origin.

Doesn't Eat Enough.

Shattuck first called attention to this possibility. The alcoholic notoriously skimps his food supply; he gets enough caloric energy from his liquor, and if he does eat, chooses over-refined or processed foods which are deficient in vitamin food factors. In 42 alcoholic addicts studied, 26 of them had neuritis with paralysis, and in all 26 the vitamin B intake was inadequate. In the others who had no polyneuritis, the vitamin B intake was adequate.

Another deficiency condition recently studied is riboflavin deficiency. This consists of an eruption and pallor on the lips at the angle of the mouth or on the skin around the mouth and also on the tongue. As the disease progresses, the skin becomes macerated and ulcerations develop.

It occurs in alcoholics and those on a deficiency diet or who have stomach trouble which prevents them from absorbing their food properly.

It can be cured by administering synthetic riboflavin, which comes in powder form.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—If and when congress investigates the sale of the latest U. S. airplanes to the Allies, it will run across some revealing facts.

However, these facts will cause the opposite of the usual embarrassment accruing from congressional investigations. For they will show that the U. S. army benefited through getting later model planes, also that the U. S. treasury received extra revenue.

For instance, the British are paying the Curtiss aircraft company a total of $739,000 in order to make over its dies and switch production from the P40 to the P46, a much more modern type of pursuit plane. Of this $739,000, about $200,000 will go to pay for the switching of U. S. army planes from the P40 to the P46.

The U. S. army was building the P40, then considered the latest and best type of pursuit plane. But after contracts for these had been signed with the Curtiss company, the P46 was developed, with a speed of nearly 400 miles an hour. It outdates the P40.

The British came along about this time and wanted to buy the P46, and the war department gave consent, provided that the British would pay for making new dies, to replace the P40's which the army already had under contract with the Curtiss company.

Thus the army gets a later and more up-to-date plane, instead of being saddled with the old P40's —all at British expense.

* * *

British Appeal.

HOWEVER, this was not worked out without some argument. At first Arthur Purvis, head of the British purchasing mission, objected vigorously, even threatened to carry the matter to the White House. Assistant War Secretary Johnson, however, stood pat. So first Purvis appealed to Secretary Morgenthau, in charge of U. S. government sales to the Allies, and generally considered the Allies' best friend. Morgenthau, however, took the precaution of calling up Johnson.

"How much do you figure it will cost the British and French to make over these dies?" Morgenthau asked. He was referring to changing the machinery in airplane factories other than Curtiss, namely Douglas, Martin, Lockheed, etc.

"About $7,000,000," replied Colonel Johnson.

"O. K.," replied the secretary of the treasury. "I'll back you up."

So after talking with Morgenthau, Purvis did not appeal to the White House.

Nothing Doing.

VICE PRESIDENT JACK GARNER will have nothing to do with the man who assailed him as a "whisky drinking, labor-baiting, evil old man."

Recently a senator friendly to John L. Lewis asked Garner if he would see the CIO chief. No reason was given for the request and Garner didn't inquire. He was merely told that Lewis would like to talk to him.

"My door is always open," Garner said. "If he wants to see me I won't stop him. But I can tell you frankly I have no desire to have any dealings with him."

Note—Michigan Republicans are saying that during Lewis's recent visit to the state he told party leaders he was prepared to support GOP congressional candidates in return for pledges that they will "lay off" the National Labor Relations board.

Stock Exchange Coup.

IT ISN'T being advertised, but the Wall Street Old Guard has just written "finish" to former SEC Chairman William Douglas's clean-up of the New York Stock Exchange. The banker insiders are again in complete control of the "big board."

On April 5 The Washington Merry-Go-Round revealed that the powerful banking elements, dislodged from their long-held key offices following the Richard Whitney scandal, were quietly setting the stage for a "blitz" comeback.

By adroit behind-the-scenes maneuvering over some eighteen months, they had slowly but steadily axed the reform officials installed under Douglas's bludgeoning until only one remained—Edward Bartlett, chairman of the board of governors. A partner of E. A. Pierce & Co., largest commission brokers in the country, Bartlett deals chiefly with the public and is more public-minded than the Old Guard bankers. His election was a big triumph for Douglas.

But with the board again in their grip, the Old Guard whetted its knives for Bartlett's scalp. They got it in true coup d'etat fashion.

Bartlett's term expires shortly, and it was expected that he would be vigorously opposed in an open election fight, with the Old Guarders putting up one or more rival candidates. But apparently they feared to risk a showdown. They harpooned Bartlett "in a smoke-filled room" before he even had a chance to roll up his sleeves.

The Exchange nominating committee, made up of Old Guarders and meeting behind locked doors, blanked Bartlett out of the race by simply not putting his name up for re-election.

They nominated only one candidate for the office, Charles B. Harding, member of the investment banking firm of Smith, Barney & Co., and that was that. Bartlett was counted out without even a chance to make a fight, and the Old Guard once again was back in the Stock Exchange saddle.

Note—Immediately after the coup, William McC. Martin, young president of the exchange elected during the Douglas reform period, sailed for South America on an extended vacation. Inside Wall street word is that Martin will soon be replaced with an old Guarder.

No Battleships.

THE fact that the Nazis do not intend to venture out into the Atlantic to engage the British fleet is clearly indicated by the fact that all work has been stopped on the construction of Germany's four big battleships. These were to have been 35,000—and 42,000-ton monsters, the equal of anything on the high seas.

But since September, the vessels have been covered with canvas, and Germany has been concentrating on the construction of submarines and mosquito-torpedo boats. The latter are deadly at close range, indicating that the Nazis plan to use them against the British fleet during close engagements around the mouth of the Baltic.

Tarnation—Again

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

WHEN we began selling eggs to the hatchery, Tarnation, the pet turkan, went to grandmother's to stay. That was so the hatchery might get only White Rock eggs, for although we had become fond of the peculiar fowl with the raw looking bare neck and breast and the weird topknot, she was still a distinct shock to everyone who saw her for the first time.

Several weeks passed. Reports were that Tarnation laid creditable and tasty breakfast eggs, and was doing fine. Yesterday on my weekly trip to the hatchery my friend and poultryman called me into a back room and said "Look here."

Hundreds of downy yellow chicks had just been taken out of the incubator. They were a cute, sprightly lot and merited a second glance. And then I saw, thrusting out their skinny red necks from among the rest, three tiny turkans, each with a patch of down above its beady eyes and that Tarnation look stamped upon it unmistakably.

"But how can this be?" I faltered. "We don't have turkans any more. We got rid of the one we had, on purpose. Never mind—I'll buy them from you."

"No you won't," laughed the poultryman. "I'm keeping these birds to see how they turn out. But some of the other hens in your flock must have turkan blood, even though it doesn't show. Heredity, you know."

And right there I ran spang into a subject for profound thought. Children will inherit what their parents give them—no more, no less. In every barnyard phase of life, farmers find careful breeding profitable enough to spend time and money on. The result has been constant improvement of domestic animals.

Yet in the vital human matters of marriage and families, what have we done? Why do we treat human reproductive instincts as something unworthy of more than a joke or a questionable story? Whose fault is it if one marriage out of seven fails? Why do we not teach wise mating to our children, even as we teach them to plow and sow and reap? Farmers cannot expect a crop unless they comply with Nature's laws . . . "men do not gather grapes from thorns, nor figs from thistles." What America will be, it is today becoming. Perhaps the future of this land depends, more than we know, upon how we train our girls and boys to choose life partners.

Mt. Gilead Begins Expansion Westward This Week

BREAK GROUND FOR BUILDING OF NEW PLANT

Construction of Ten Houses in Near Future Assured By Subscriptions.

MT. GILEAD—Mt. Gilead's development westward this week became a reality.

Ground was broken in construction of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing company's new plant on a 60-acre tract between the county seat and Edison, one and one-half miles west.

Organizers of Mt. Gilead Homes Inc., met last night to elect officers and directors. Construction of 10 new homes, probably in the westward area, already had been planned.

Actual construction work on houses became a possibility with announcement Thursday $4,600 had been subscribed in the $15,000 corporation enterprise. A subscription of $5,000 had been needed to begin building.

Still pending is the hearing before county commissioners May 20 on the proposal to annex an area, roughly three-quarters of a mile square, to the village in the westward direction.

Annexation.

The new plant and probably the new home sites are included in the annexation area.

Coincident with the home and industrial development, reported as the most extensive in the village in nearly half a century, County Agricultural Agent Elwood Davis announced completion of the first complete land-use survey in the history of Morrow county.

The survey contains data on which new agricultural methods can keep step with manufacturing and business progress, Davis said. The report was six months in the making.

Construction of a railroad spur to the new press plant was said by A. L. Boggs, spokesman in the absence of President Howard MacMillin, to be one of the first steps in the building of the new plant.

Pioneer Firm.

The Hydraulic company, established in 1879, pioneered in the manufacture of machinery used in the manufacture of plastic products. Growth of the plastic industry in the last decade necessitated the building of the new plant, officials said.

Plant officials estimate 100 employes working regularly live outside Mt. Gilead, at least 50 per cent of them driving considerable distances to and from work.

Tentative plans provide for the construction of 10 residences roughly at a cost of $2,750 to be sold after construction to individuals without the aid of federal government financing.

The new manufacturing plant will be 400 feet long by 132 feet wide. It will house the heavy manufacturing units of the company. The present plant will continue in use for presses in the lighter divisions.

They're 32 Inches Long and Dems Have Total of 92 Candidates.

When Richland county voters go to the polls May 14 to choose party nominees they will get ballots almost big enough to hide behind.

The new ballots, which had been made available today for absent voting, are believed to be the largest ever used in the county They are 32 inches long, 10 inches wide, and bear three columns of names.

While both Democratic and Republican ballots are the same size, there are 92 Democratic candidates and only 72 Republicans seeking the nomination for county, district and state offices and national convention delegate posts.

Complicating the ballots are the names of 16 candidates for delegates, 16 for alternates to the Democratic national convention in Chicago and eight each for delegates and alternates to the Republican convention in Philadelphia

The Democrats are entitled to more delegates because they cast a larger vote in Ohio in the last presidential election.

Absent voters' ballots may be voted and returned to the election board until the night of May 9. Ballots for college students away from home will be available April 24, and disabled voters can cast their ballots after April 29. All the ballots must be voted by May 9.

FLOOD THREAT

Cincinnatians Warned More Rain Would Raise Ohio.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Warning that continued rain would send the Ohio river to near its 52-foot flood stage here came today from the weather bureau.

On the basis of 48 hours' precipitation already recorded, W. B. C. Lomer, acting meteorologist, said the stream would go to within four to six feet of that mark by late Saturday or Sunday.

Widespread general rain totaled 1.2 to 1.5 inches in 24 hours ending at 7:30 a. m., this on top of 1.6 inches which fell Wednesday and early Thursday.

The downpour continued and sent the Little Miami river to within five feet of its 17-foot stage at Kings Mills, east of here.

OH, SO SORRY!

Roasted Mouse Didn't Mean To Start All That.

COLUMBUS —(UP)— A mouse ran across the floor into an opening in the upholstering of Mrs. W. A. Maddy's davenport. Her pet dog pursued. Mrs Maddy lit a match to peer into the hole. The dog knocked the match from her hand into the hole. The davenport caught fire.

So ran the sequence of events that called out the equipment of fire house No. 10 yesterday. Damage: singed davenport; one roasted mouse.

SEWAGE PLANT'S EFFICIENCY CUT TO 92 PER CENT

Report Shows Raw Sewage Being By-Passed Again as Equipment Clogs.

Operations impaired by clogging of equipment at the sewage treatment plant during March resulted in the by-passing of nearly 2,000,000 gallons of raw sewage and decreased the efficiency of the treatment process to a new low for the year, Plant Superintendent James R. Turner's monthly report to city council disclosed today.

Turner's report showed that the percentage of sewage fully treated dropped to 92 per cent, five per cent below the February level, while the percentage of purfication decreased to 89 per cent.

The report followed by two days, disclosure that the plant is inadequate to handle the present sewage load. Turner had requested immediate expenditure of $30,000 with which to purchase needed equipment at the plant, Council's finance committee in reply has said that the money would not be available at least during 1940.

The total sewage flow last month, Turner said was 112,000,000 gallons of which only 107,000,000 gallons entered the plant.

Of the amount by-passed, over 3,000,000 gallons was due to the execessive flow caused by storm water entering the sanitary sewer system while another 2,000,000 was by-passed because of an obstruction in a suction pump where the sewage enters the plant.

Run Into Creek.

Turner said that all sewage had to be run into the creek while workmen dismantled and cleaned the equipment.

Total cost of operation for the month was listed at $1,816 as compared with $1,006 the previous month, while the cost per million gallons increased from $10.88 in February to $17.10 last month.

Part of the increase in the cost was attributed to an increase in the use of chlorine in the treatment process during the month which boosted the chlorine bill to $82 as against $6 in February.

Turner said this was due to a "bulking up" of the sludge which required an additional amount of chlorine to keep the treatment satisfactory.

HOLD INSPECTION

GALION—In Galion Thursday night to inspect the American Legion auxiliary was Mrs. R. F Leehmuis of Elyria, president of the Fifth district of the American Legion auxiliary.

MacFarland Cheviots and Campbell Tweeds are colorful as the Scottish Highlands from which they get their names; rough, rugged, manly...perfect replicas of imported goods.

Tailored in three-button lounge drapes and double-breasteds, they are just as outstanding in appearance as they are in value. All wool, of course, and in all sizes, too.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

THE MAILMAN brought me some really important news today—a wedding announcement from Greenwich, Conn. . . . It told of the marriage of Richard Maxwell and Cecilia Thelma Dowd in that city last week-end. . . . Of course you know Dick as one of Mansfield's most illustrious sons—he has been a sustaining artist in radio with the Columbia Broadcasting company in New York City for the past eight years. . . . His bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Francis Dowd of Greenwich.

All of her friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. Louis W. Olson has returned to her home, Low Hills, on the Park avenue west road, following a winter vacation in the west. . . . You probably recall that she and her husband went to their ranch near Phoenix, Ariz., quite early last fall. . . . Mrs. Olson arrived by train this week, while he is driving home now. . . . Incidentally, the Olsons have given up plans for a trip to Norway this summer because of the war conditions which exist there now.

* * *

Did you know that Katharine Hartman was spending this week skiing in the mountains of New Hampshire? Her sister, Martha, came here during spring vacation from the University of Wisconsin, and together they went to Pinkham Notch. . . . They'll return this week-end, so that Martha can resume her studies in Madison next week.

* * *

THERE'S much activity about the Y. W. C. A. these days, as the girls are making plans for just about the biggest affair of the year. . . . On May 2, the Girl Reserves and Blue Tri girls will entertain their mothers with a banquet at the Westinghouse. . . . A program will follow the 6 o'clock dinner—the presentation of rings and the Girl Reserve official ceremonial will be features of this program, with Mrs. Richard Olin in charge of the latter. . . . Mrs. Thornton Moore and a committee of Girl Reserves are taking care of the other arrangements.

* * *

Mrs. A. C. Forsythe left this week for California. . . . She's being joined by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newcomer of Fostoria, for the trip west. . . . They're going to visit with Mrs. Forsythe's brother, Charles Chatlain, in Santa Anita.

* * *

Why don't you drop a cheery card or note in the mail for Margaret Hopper one of these days real soon? A teacher of the first grade at Newman school, Peg was taken ill here several weeks ago, and now has been taken to her home in Defiance to recuperate. . . . Her street address there is 402 Holgate.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES A. SULLENS are returning home from a trip east today. . . . Mr. Sullens was a delegate to the annual business conference of the Prudential Insurance company of America, which was held this week in Newark, N. J., and New York City. . . . The final affair was a dinner party in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore, where the Sullens were staying . . . En route home, they stopped off in Pittsburgh, Pa., to visit with relatives.

AND IN CONCLUSION: Mrs. Elva Gray came here this week to make her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spriggins. . . . The Spriggins' daughter, Kathryn, who is a nurse, is more than pleased about her coming, because Mrs. Gray has been a nurse in Miami Beach and Coral Gables, Fla., for many years.

Disney Feature at Ohio.

THE magic of Walt Disney gives animation to an old familiar character in "Pinocchio," his second full length feature picture. Like the old legend of Pygmalion, "Pinocchio" has the theme of an artist who loves his own creation. A gentle old woodcarver looks at the little puppet he has made from wood and wishes that it would come to life and be a real boy to cheer his lonely life. How this comes about and how the puppet earns real boyhood is told in Disney's cartoons. "Pinocchio" opens at the Ohio Saturday for a week.

Much Discussed Film Here.

One of the most discussed pictures of the season is "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" which comes to the Madison Saturday for four days. It is along the same lines as "Life of Louis Pasteur" and is a biographical drama of a man of science and courage whose "magic bullet" brought destruction to the microbes that plagued mankind. Edward G. Robinson is starred and supporting him are such players as Maria Ouspenskaya, Donald Crisp, Ruth Gordon and Otto Kruger. This serious feature is supplemented with a nonsensical comedy "Saps At Sea" with Laurel and Hardy.

Stage Show at Park.

The two-reature program at the Park for today and tomorrow is topped with a stage show, "Rio Grande Rangers," cowboy entertainers headed by Gene Durnal. "Children of the Wild" is a drama filmed against outdoor settings and with a number of animals in their native haunts. In "The Gentleman Fro mCalifornia," Ricardo Cortez plays a Robin Hood of the old West, supported by Katherine DeMille and Marjorie Weaver.

Famous Detective.

Nick Carter, the super-sleuth who fascinated boys and girls of more than 30 years ago, comes to life in "Nick Carter, Master Detective" which M-G-M made from the old detective story series Walter Pidgeon is seen as Nick with Rita Johnson as the romantic interest. The week-end Western at the Ritz is Tex Ritter in "The Man From Texas."

Outdoor Film.

Charles Starrett, popular Western hero of action films, whoops it up with barking guns and thundering hooves in "Bullets For Rustlers," Majestic offering today and Saturday. The singing Sons of Pioneers appear in the supporting cast. Lana Turner, one of the prettiest of the newcomers in films is starred in "Dancing Co-Ed" which also marks the film debut of Artie Shaw and his orchestra.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, April 20.

Unusual initiative and aggressive action may be read from the predominant planetary auspices. The effort to launch new and important projects may be crowned with practical and constructive results, the forces being highly stimulated and the mental insight into progressive propositions being keen, shrewd and dependable. Forethought rather than expediency is recommenedd. Work with groups may be lucrative.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an active and progressive year, with new plans and projects favored. Things may move with much initiative and under high pressure. There may be profit in the cooperation of groups or social bodies.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"I am afraid I can explain that, too," she said, "although I thought it was a chapter in my life that I had thankfully closed years ago I have hidden it where no one could possibly be injured by it, but now, I can see, the truth must be told."

I tried not to betray the keen astonishment I felt at her words I had expected to learn of a secret ingress to the farmhouse, but this projected revelation was almost too much for me. What did this sheltered old woman know of the gang threatening our safety?

That she read my thoughts I realized when her face suddenly flushed crimson.

"No! no!" she exclaimed explosively. "You must not think that I know anything of what those men, your enemies, are doing."

"Oh! Miss Marman!" I protested emphatically. "We know that could not be true."

"Thank you," she said. "But, nevertheless, there is something I must tell you which may throw some light on the subject. But first I must ask you some questions."

"Of course," I assured her.

She waited for several seconds, evidently arranging her words carefully.

"You have spoken," she said finally, "of a leader of the men arrayed against you, who, you think, is insane. From the fact that you say he is infatuated with your niece, I conclude that he is comparatively young. You say also that he was a college man. Do you know his name, and would you be willing to tell it to me?"

The feeling of unreality deepened, but my voice was steady as I answered her.

"Yes, to both questions," I answered. "His name is Jack Leslie."

"I haven't swooned," she said. "My heart is in fairly good shape, but I thank you for your concern. Please give me a minute or two more, then I shall be able to explain things to you."

"Please don't hurry," I begged, and she closed her eyes again. When she next opened them, they were still distressed but resolute, and unconsciously I braced myself to hear what she might have to tell me.

"I shall have to go back a long way," she said, "to my girlhood, in order that you may understand.

"There were but two children who lived to maturity in our family," she went on after a short pause, "my older sister and myself. Our parents both died when we were in our early twenties, and a year or two afterward my sister married, against the advice of every one who knew her, a man named John Leslie."

Both Lillian and I have cultivated "poker faces," but they were not proof against the unexpected utterance of that name. We both started perceptibly.

"Ah! I see you begin to see what I mean," Miss Carman said. "My sister did not live very long after her marriage, but long enough to find out that her husband, who had represented himself as a single man when courting her, was in reality a widower with a small son, also called John. She also found out that there was insanity in his family. Indeed, some years after her death he was adjudged insane and sent to an asylum, where he later died. The care of his son had been mine for several years, but when he was grown I tried in vain, on account of his heredity, to dissuade him from marriage, but he would not listen, and married a beautiful young girl who died in childbirth, leaving the third John Leslie, who, I greatly fear, is the man who is your enemy.

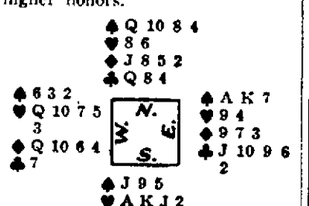
"The Authority on Authorities"

THE DANGEROUS WAY

Trying for the even break of a suit, in order to set up the thirteener, involves one special risk which is not attached to any other kind of trick establishment. If the suit breaks badly enough, you may set up several winning tricks for the holder of the longer string. This danger is never present in the effort to set up the lower honors of a sequence, as then all that the opponents can get is their higher honors.



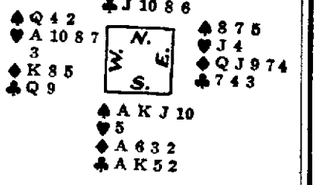
(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
3 NT

The opening lead of the club 7 looked like the top of a probable trebleton to South, especially after the 8 brought the 9 from East. Figuring that suit would break, he counted four tricks there, two in diamonds and three in hearts, if the finesse would work. So he won the first trick with the club A, led the club K and was sunk when West discarded a spade. He then tried spades, hoping West had the high ones. East won with the spade A, led another club to the Q, and ducked the spade return. Declarer then tried the heart finesse, which lost. West fired back a spade to the K, and East cashed the two clubs which set the contract.

South could have played safe. After winning the club lead, he could have led the spade J to East, won a club return in his own hand, repeated spades and, when East took his second honor there, the club Q would have been an entry for declarer to take two tricks in spades which, added to his two sure ones in hearts and diamonds and three in clubs, would have made his nine needed for game.

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

Against South's 3-No Trumps, if West leads the diamond 5 to East's J, and on the 7 South plays his A, how can West know he must put his K under the A?

G. O. P. AND DEMS ARRANGING FOR POLITICAL FESTS

Republicans Book Speakers For Dinner; Democrats to Hold Party Saturday.

Four state G. O. P. leaders are scheduled to help Richland county Republicans open their primary campaign next Thursday night at a county-wide rally at party headquarters in the Warner building.

Congressman Dudley White of Norwalk, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, will be the main speaker.

Other county G. O. P. leaders are counting on for talks at the meeting are P. H. Rogers of Grafton, candidate for state senator from the 27th-29th district; Judge H. W. Jewell of Delaware, Republican candidate for a post on the Ohio Supreme court, and R. R. Bangham, Wilmington, seeking the Republican nomination for state auditor.

County candidates will be introduced, party leaders said. The talks will follow a covered dish dinner at 6:30 p. m. which will be in charge of the county Republican Women's council.

The Richland County Young Democratic club ill have a Jefferson Day party Saturday night, in the Grotto hall, but Marshall C. Moore, president, said there will be no speeches except for hearing a radio talk by President Roosevelt who will address Young Democratic groups throughout the nation.

Dancing and cards will provide entertainment following the president's talk at 8:30. Refreshments will be served.

"SHOETRICIAN"

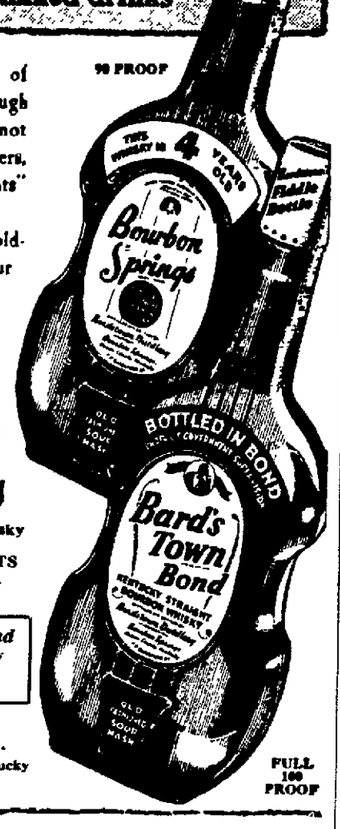
AMAZE BRITISH

LONDON—(U.P.)—Why Canadian soldiers prefer "cokes" and other soft drinks of American origin to a "nice hot cup o' tea" is something that W. Shove, manager of the new Canadian Legion club, just can't understand. "I once saw a man drink two straight off," he said in amazement.

Now comes this rich "Fiddle Bottle" Whisky that Flavors 4 Times Its Volume in highballs and mixed drinks



Yes sir, this is the real test of whisky! Flavor that carries through in highballs, richness that is not obscured by lemon juice or bitters, smoothness that makes "straights" a new pleasure.

We make this whisky in our old-fashioned slow way. It's a sour mash whisky. The limestone water of our Bourbon Springs has no harshness, and brings out rich flavor.

Both our brands are 4 years old—choose the proof you prefer!

Democrats Work for Relief Budget Plan Approval

REPUBLICANS RAISE SLUSH FUND QUERY

White House Requests Issue Be Expedited to Hasten Adjournment.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Administration leaders, disregarding Republican queries as to whether a "campaign slush fund" was sought, worked quietly today for speedy house approval of President Roosevelt's plan to maintain relief spending at the present $1,500,000,000-a-year-rate.

They were spurred, authoritative sources said, by a White House request that congress expedite disposition of the relief issue so as not to delay its own adjournment.

In a letter to Speaker Bankhead, Mr. Roosevelt asked yesterday for discretionary authority to spend a $975,000,000 WPA appropriation in eight months, if necessary, instead of the full year as he originally recommended.

"There is certainly at the present time," the president wrote, "no information available to justify a reduction in the program of the Works Projects Administration below that which has been carried on in the current fiscal year with an appropriation of approximately one and one-half billion dollars."

Maintain Level.

Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, later told reporters that the $975,000,000, if spent during the first eight months, would maintain work relief rolls at the 1940 level of about 2,000,000 persons a month

Chairman Ditter (R., Pa.) of the Republican congressional committee said the discretionary authority sought would be "only another one of the instances so aptly defined by Justice Cardozo as 'a vagrant and unconfined power' and which, in an election year, might offer temptations that I feel certain the Democratic party would not care to deal with."

Rep. Fish (R., N.Y.) asked on the house floor whether "another campaign slush fund" was in the offing.

"Does it mean that another 500,000 people are going to be padded onto the payrolls during September, October and November at public expense?" he asked.

Although there was sharp conflict of opinion among members of the appropriations subcommittee considering the relief estimates, Democratic house members generally supported Mr. Roosevelt.

After three days of debate, the house yesterday overwhelmingly approved the Logan-Walter bill to provide for uniform procedure by federal administrative agencies and for speedier court review of their orders.

The measure went to the senate by the topheavy vote of 280 to 97, but leaders there have made no plans for its consideration. A somewhat similar bill passed the senate last year, but that action was reconsidered and the bill restored to the calendar.

Guernseys From Mansfield Area Set Top Records

Four registered Guernsey cows owned by dairymen in the Mansfield area have completed production records qualifying them for admission to the advanced register of the American Guernsey Cattle club, officials of the club announced today.

Two cows in the herd owned by Roger A. Black, one belonging to Neil S. Robinson, and another to Ralph H. Hulit established the outstanding records.

One of the animals in the Black herd produced 13,615 pounds of milk and 718 pounds of butterfat while another produced 13,627 pounds of milk and 590 pounds of butterfat in their classifications.

A four-year-old cow owned by Robinson produced 9,122 pounds of milk and 497 pounds of butterfat in a year. The production record of Hulit's cow showed 10,396 pounds of milk and 531 pounds of butterfat in 331 days.

BUT IT'S A BOY!

The child born to Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Robinson, 91 Wolfe avenue, at General hospital Wednesday evening was a son—not a daughter as erroneously reported at the hospital yesterday.

Up and Down THE STREET

As a result of voice tests made yesterday on the school's recording apparatus several members of the Senior high faculty in the future will probably be trying to make some change in the way they talk. After the records were played back, nearly all of them remarked in surprise, "Is that how I sound?"

A duck owned by Mrs. H. F. Wilkinson, West Millsborough road, laid a belated Easter egg yesterday that would almost make a meal in itself. The huge egg was seven inches around the middle and nine inches around the long way. It weighed a quarter of a pound. Mrs. Wilkinson said it was the largest egg she had ever seen in her experience with poultry.

Track fans who attend the 14th annual Mansfield Relays at Stadium field Saturday, April 27, will have a chance to see the state Class B mile champion in action. He is Tarver Perkins and he'll be the lone representative of Clearview high, near Lorain. Harry Mehock, director of the Relays, said today he expects the youthful runner to set a new mark in the classic. He won the state crown at Columbus last spring. Clearview was one of six schools which filed entries in the Relays today.

A certain Mansfield school teacher has a game for her grammar classes. She has one child make up a sentence, and then the others tell what kind of a sentence it is. The other day one of her small girls made up the sentence: "Miss Smith is a very nice woman" and before anyone else could answer, one of the boys popped up with "It's a question!" And no one but the teacher saw the giggling point.

SLAYER DIES IN LETHAL CHAMBER

Wife-Killer Asks Kiss From Minister Before Going Into Death Cell.

RAWLINGS, Wyo. —(INS)— The lethal gas chamber at the Wyoming penitentiary claimed its second victim as Stanley S. Lantzer, 38-year-old wife slayer, walked calmly to his death early today.

The former Brush, Colo., hayfield worker had a wan smile on his lips as a guard blindfolded him. Muttering players, the condemned man then accompanied Warden Alonzo Roach down the 15-foot corridor to the steel death chamber, walking with a firm stride.

Before the door of the death chamber swung shut, Lantzer called for Rev. William Young of Brush, who had been at his side all afternoon and night.

"Kiss me brother," asked Lantzer. The minister kissed him and left the chamber.

One minute after he had been strapped in the seat in the lethal gas chamber, 32 pellets of sodium cyanide were dropped into a bucket of sulphuric acid below the metal chair. Two minutes and 10 seconds after the deadly gas began generating, Dr. C. W. Jeffrey, prison physician, formally pronounced him dead.

Lantzer was condemned for the slaying of his estranged wife, Cecil, 32, at a Cheyenne tourist camp, on Aug. 29, 1938. The gas chamber replaced hanging as a method of execution here in 1935.

SENATE PUSHES DRIVE FOR MORE AND BIGGER WARSHIPS FOR U. S.

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Senate advocates of a bigger navy pushed their drive for more and better warships today with plans for making efficient fighting units out of the fleet's three oldest battleships —the Texas, Arkansas and New York.

Sen. James F Byrnes, (D.,S.C.) said he would introduce a deficiency bill to appropriate $6,000,000 to "modernize" them.

Yesterday's quick approval of the $863,797,478 regular army appropriation bill for 1941 foreshadows early action on his deficiency bill, Byrnes said. He was floor manager of the appropriation bill which was approved, 63 to 4, after less than four hours of senate debate.

Naval officials want to strengthen the armor and raise the gun levels of the three old battleships, Byrnes said, despite the fact that they have 12 others afloat and eight more building, exclusive of the two 45,000 ton ships appropriated for in the 1941 bill.

When the battleships North Carolina, Washington and Indiana, scheduled to be completed in 1941, 1942 and 1943, respectively, were ordered built, it was planned to have them replace the Arkansas, Texas and New York. The Arkansas is 28 years old; the New York and Texas are 26 years old.

The Arkansas, Texas and New York are assigned to the Atlantic squadron, but each year they are used as training ships for naval academy midshipmen on their summer cruises.

Byrnes said that additional armor and an increased gun range would make the three ships fit for the battle line.

TO REPRESENT AUTO WORKERS FOR CONTRACT

AFL Captures Five Plants as Bargaining Agency for 6,537 Workers.

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT — A new course for collective bargaining in the plants of the nation's largest automobile manufacturer was charted today after a decisive CIO victory over an AFL industrial union in General Motors employes' election.

The United Automobile Workers (CIO) by winning elections in 48 G M plants, gained the right to bargain for more than 120,000 of the corporation's hourly wage earners.

Five plants, with 6,537 workers certified to the National Labor Relations board, selected the AFL-affiliated United Automobile Workers teo represent them.

Although individual plants were designated as separate bargaining units, the corporation agreed to negotiate with each union for all the plants it won on "issues common to all" such plants.

Same Demands.

Leaders of the two unions, which have battled each other for members since the original UAW split into the two groups more than a year ago, indicated they would press for negotiations to amend the basic G. M. contract. Each union plans to demand a general wage increase, vacations with pay, recognition of shop stewards, and senority and overtime clauses.

R. J. Thomas, president of the UAW-CIO, said "the overwhelming number of eligible voters who took advantage of their right to vote should be a silent indication to politicians bent on destroying the (Wagner) act that the mass of the workers is solidly behind the act."

At Washington, John L. Lewis, CIO chieftian, hailed the selection of the UAW-CIO in most plants as "a triumph for industrial unionism."

The UAW-CIO received 84,024 or approximately 68 per cent of the valid vote, the UAW-AFL 25,911 or 21 per cent, and 11 per cent of the workers expressed a preference for neither union.

Comment from AFL sources was lacking.

STRIKE VIOLENCE

TORONTO —(UP)— Special detachments of provincial police were dispatched to several Ontario ports today to protect strike-breaking seamen.

Violence broke out as Great Lakes ship-owners attempted to break a strike of 4,800 members of the Canadian Seamens' union by employing non-union labor.

Several men were injured and two were arrested at Sarnia, Ont., last night when three Colonial Steamship Line vessels took aboard non-union crews and two of them cleared for Fort William.

COATS STOLEN

Robbers Get Clothing Valued at $1,800 From Car.

ASHLAND—Thirty pieces of men's clothing valued at $1,800 were reported stolen here last night from a car parked on Clairmont avenue belonging to Fred Eckman of Cincinnati.

Eckman, salesman for the Hyde Park Clothing company of Cincinnati, reported to police that the stolen goods included ten topcoats, two full suits and a number of single coats. The clothing was covered by insurance, he told police.

Eckman said the car was parked in front of 209 Clairmont avenue where he had rented a room for the night. He told police that several large grips in the car filled with clothing, were not touched.

Hollywood Speaks---

HOLLYWOOD—Sepia section: Hattie McDaniel, before and since her acquisition of an Oscar, has done her own washing, cooking, cleaning, ironing. When she's too busy on a picture, she sends her sheets to the laundry and has a helper in to clean. Ordinarily, she doesn't like outsiders messin' around her house.

Oscar hasn't changed Hattie. A few years ago, when Hattie was trying to break into pictures, she used to make a living hiring out by the day. She had to quit that kind of work, after a few pictures, because housewives would recognize her. She has fewer fancy notions about herself than Shirley Temple—which is really few.

Hattie was born in Wichita, Kas., her father a minister and odd-jobs man. Hattie always wanted to be an actress. She got into vaudeville. Vaudeville folded, but not Hattie. She landed in Milwaukee one time, got a job as hostess in the ladies' restroom of a night club. $7 a week and tips. One night, after the orchestra had left, she asked permission to try out a number on the late-stayers. She sang "St. Louis Blues" and collected $90 in tribute from the customers. The manager had her organize a sepia company for the place, and Hattie starred there three years. Between shows, she kept her job as restroom hostess. She just likes to work.

She got modern fast in Hollywood for a long time. Her first bit was in "Alice Adams," the Hepburn movie. Her latest and biggest was as Mammy in "Gone."

Since then, her agent has been trying to talk her into doubling her asking salary. Hattie says no. She says if Hattie asks too much money, Hattie won't work as much. Hattie has the fattest role among the negro players of "Maryland."

She has been married twice, describes herself as "a widow by Death and Left."

Ben Carter, erstwhile resident of Keokuk, Ia., and Aurora, Ill., came to Hollywood and saw a crying need for a negro agent for negro film talent.

"I," said Ben, "am that agent."

Ben became an actor while trying to "sell" Henry King one of his clients for "Little Old New York." King gave the part to Ben, has given him another in "Maryland." Ben is aware that some of his clients are beginning to murmur.

Dapper Ben realized an agent's dream the other day: with 75 negroes working in "Maryland" sequences for three days, Ben collected $750 in commissions, aside from his own salary. Employed were Ben's two 32-member choir, singing a spiritual called "Amen"—written by one of Ben's clients!
